YOUNG MEN WHO MAY BE SUFFERING FROM the effects of youthful follies or indiscretions, will do well to turn their backs on this, the greatest boon ever laid at the altar of suffering humanity. Dr. SPINNEY will guarantee to refund $500 for every case of SICKNESS, INJURY or private disease of any kind or character which he undertakes and fails to cure.

MIDDLE-AGED MEN,
There are many at the age of thirty and sixty who are troubled with too frequent visits from the physician, and are accompanied by a slight smarting or burning sensation and a weakening of the system in a manner the patient cannot account for. An examination of the urine deposits a deposit which will often be found in some small particles of a thin milky hue, again changing to a dark and then appearing in the form of a thin film. Who dares of this difficulty ignorant of the cause which is the second stage of seminal weakness. Dr. S. will guarantee a perfect cure in all such cases and a healthy restoration of the general system.

Office Hours—10 to 4 and 6 to 8. Sundays from 10 to 12. Consultation Free. Thorough examination and advice.

For private diseases of short standing a full course of medicines sufficient for a cure, with necessary instructions, will be sent to any address on receipt of Ten Dollars Cash.

GIVE YOUR REASONS

The Carson correspondent of the Silver State accuses Major Garrard, by innuendo, of manipulating the wires in the asylum job, by which Dr. Dawson was displaced. The Lieutenant-Governor says the reasons were sufficient, and that the Board was warranted in displacing Dawson. That may all be true, but the people would be much better satisfied if he would give them. We do not believe Major Garrard would take part in any such infamous proceeding. The Board of Commissioners are alone responsible. They were given in charge of a sacred trust, and the people believed they would do their full duty in caring for the unfortunate intrusted to their keeping, and when they wantonly prostituted that trust, they betrayed the confidence, and must sooner or later give an account of their stewardship. The people had a right to expect better things of the head of the executive department of the State Government.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The proposed scheme for a cable street railroad has not been favorably received by the street railroad companies of New York, notwithstanding the admitted fact that such road can be operated at much less expense than a horse-car line. An impression prevailed that the New York streets would interfere with the running of cable cars. Surely such traffic is no heavier than that of San Francisco, and the Market street cable line in that city shows that on the most crowded highway, cable cars can be run speedily and safely. The failure on the Brooklyn bridge proves that New Yorkers do not yet thoroughly understand the cable system. Now is the chance for San Franciscans who do understand it.

We have read carefully the December number of Dr. Lewis's Monthly, and find it fully equal to the other magazines. Indeed, more might well be said. The article on the cruelties of Vivisection, is a transcendent one; "My Insane Asylum Experience," is unfortunately too true of such institutions in general. Perhaps the attempted imitation of a Frenchman speaking English in a "Washington Experience," is a little faulty; but in general, the magazine is an excellent, and instructive one. It would be well if our young people especially, would read such literature, instead of the dime novels and flash newspapers, which now occupy the time of too many.

Politicians are not alone in their devotion to Mammon, as the following from the Sacramento Bee fully proves: The fact has been developed that the Good Templars have been raising something like $40,000 a year, and one element—corresponding to the "outs" in politics—is vigorously protesting against the high salaries that are being paid to the "ins." It certainly does look as if $40,000 is a great deal of money to be required to run an organization that does not believe in champagne suppers, and in which nobody has to subsidize saloons in its interest when there is to be an election of officers.

Now that the French have reconsidered their notion of stopping the importation of American pork, we suggest that the best way of curing Bismarck would be to prohibit the importation of Limburger cheese. That would wound the Prussian finances in a sensitive point, and Bismarck would find out that two can play at the game he instituted.

EASTERN DISPATCHES.

PRESS DISPATCHES TO THE GAZETTE.

Chandler Presided.

WASHINGTON, December 19.

Everyone is wondering at Secretary Chandler's queer performance in introducing Matthew Arnold last night to lecture to the audience. Speaker Carlisle was to have introduced the lecturer, but sent a letter of regret which Chandler read. He then went on to say that he regretted Carlisle's election as Speaker. This remark might have been overlooked, if after the lecture, Chandler had not called upon some of the scientists present, to stand up and refute Arnold's theories. The secretary first called upon Edward Everett Hale to speak; Hale declined. He then turned to Dr. Loring and calling him the "Great Agricultural Scientist," asked him to speak. Loring got out of the embarrassing situation by shaking hands with Arnold. Chandler then called for a speech from William Walter Phelps, the reform politician of New Jersey. The proceedings now took on the nature of burlesque, and there was abundant mock applause. Fred Douglass was called upon and made a brief speech. Finally, when half the audience had gone out, a vote of thanks was attempted, but only as a climax to the absurdity of Chandler's very extraordinary performance. Arnold is very indignant at what he terms "this insulting treatment."

Mult Commenced.

ST. LOUIS, December 19.

The firm of Seligman & Co. of New York and London has brought suit in the United States Circuit Court here against the St. Louis & San Francisco Railroad and W. C. Wilson, a local financial agent, to restrain the sale of $22,500 worth of the railroad stock, recently levied upon by Wilson to satisfy a judgment of $75,000, which he lately obtained against the Seligmans in connection with the construction of a piece of railroad, which forms part of the St. Louis & San Francisco line in the western part of Missouri.

China Pounding.

WASHINGTON, December 19.

Bills are about to be introduced in each House of Congress to send back to China the indemnity fund of $650,000, paid years ago on account of damages done American residents during the insurrection at Canton. The Chinese Government has never made a request for the return of the money, but Minister Young states there is a deep feeling over the matter in the Flowering Kingdom.

A Destructive Fire.

BALTIMORE, December 19.

A fire started this morning in three of the warehouses of the Baltimore Warehouse Company, at Union dock. The entire fire department was called out. About 2,000 bales in the building were badly damaged and a great deal destroyed. Shortly after 11 o'clock the fire was under control. Warehouse No. 1 was completely burned; also a portion of the other two. Damages are estimated at $75,000.

Senate Confirmations.

WASHINGTON, December 29.

The following nominations were confirmed by the Senate yesterday: Lawrence Weldon of Illinois, Judge of the Court of Claims; Nathaniel P. Banks of Massachusetts, United States Marshal for Massachusetts; Alonso Gesser of Oregon, Indian agent at the Warm Springs agency, Cal.; Samuel Halibird, Quartermaster-General; J. S. Tooker of Michigan, Secretary of Montana.

Hendrick's Health.

INDIANAPOLIS, December 17.

The printed statement that Governor Hendricks has gone abroad for medical treatment or advice is denied by members of his family here. He will not visit London and his party will not be in Paris more than a day or two. It is purely a pleasure trip for the party. Mr. Hendricks is now in as robust health as he has been at any time within the past 10 years.

Anti-Masonry.

NEW YORK, December 19.

Rev. Stoddard, in delivering a lecture against Masonry, at Newfane, New York, exhibited a huge stone with an iron staple which he claimed was the weight used in sinking the corpse of William Morgan in Niagara river.

Pilots.

NEW YORK, December 19.

The Pilot Commissioners have made a rule that steamships must stop receiving or discharging pilots, under a penalty of $25. Any pilot causing unnecessary delay pays a like amount.

Covering up the Wires.

NEW YORK, December 19.

The Board of Alderman have passed an ordinance requiring electric light Companies to place their wires underground after May 1, 1884.

Skinner Seated.

WASHINGTON, December 17.

It was argued in the House to day that Skinner presented an invulnerable prima facie case. Springer contended that the election of Skinner was in accordance with the law of the State, Mills defended Skinner's right for a seat. Belford said that in the light of the 19th century, though the Republican and Democratic parties both claimed to be honest, a large number of political outrages were practiced by both sides, and it was idle to conceal their comment. If the House set itself up to repudiate the certificates of the Governors of the respective States it was committing a masterful mistake, into the bosom of which, he, for one, did not propose to drop. After a long discussion, Keeler having withdrawn, Skinner was sworn in.

Congressional News.

WASHINGTON, December 19.

Bayard is speaking on the inconsistency of Republicans regarding civil service methods.

Another long list of recess appointments went into the Senate to-day. A majority of them are postmasters. Colonel Bondinot presented the application of District Attorney Corkhill, asking about the prosecution of William Phillips of Kansas, charged by Bondinot, with violating the revised statutes, making contracts and receiving money from Indians. The names of six witnesses, including Secretary Gillen and Commissioner Price, were furnished Corkhill.

An Ex-Mayor Dead.

BALTIMORE, December 19.

Ex-Mayor Stanbury died to-day, aged 92 years.

WESTERN DISPATCHES

PRESS DISPATCHES TO THE GAZETTE.

The Ophir Contest.

SAN FRANCISCO, December 19.

The Ophir fight is being bitterly contested. The Flood and Sharon forces are out in full strength. No such stock excitement has been seen here since the Crown Point election. Nevada block is surrounded by an immense crowd waiting to hear the result, which is not likely to be known before a late hour this evening. All stock voted in challenged. Up to the present hour (2 o'clock) only letter "H" had been reached, when 32,933 votes were cast for Flood and 1,917 for Morrow, representing the Sharon interest. All voters and proxies stand in Richardson's name at the Bank of California. About 148,000 is still to be cast for Sharon. The belief is that Flood will win. Ophir sold up to $20 this morning.

The Creek Nation Chooses a Head Chief.

MUSKOKEE, I. T., December 18.

The Creek Council at Okmulgee, have ordered a recount of votes for principal chief and elected Speiche chief by 37 votes. He was duly inaugurated yesterday, and took the oath of office. The second chief, who has heretofore refused to take the oath on account of a fraudulent count, was also sworn in. This gives the Creek nation two principal chiefs and adds another difficulty to the situation. A large majority of both Houses of the Council favor Speiche.

JOTTINGS.

A storm is brewing.
The purest of sweet apple cider at Leadbetter's.

Iron tooth picks are in demand in Reno and nails are high, but none too hard.

Buy your cigars of Davis & Son, and you are sure of getting a first-class article.

Watches and clocks at Nasby's, 27 Commercial Row. Thermometer at 7, 9, 11, 1, 3-30, 33, 44, 50, 48.

Leadbetter has every kind of vegetable, and he sells them at bottom rates. Did you try his cider? He has it fresh and fine.

Confectionery, fruit, and whatever goes to make a Christmas dinner pleasant, may be bought at Leadbetter's, on Commercial Row.

A marriage engagement in the so-called upper circles of Carson, to be consummated soon, the Tribune says, will astonish even the most prying woman.

You surely want a turkey at this Christmas season. Now, Leadbetter has turkeys, chickens, ducks and anything else you may want. He sells as low as possible.

Nasby—always on hand—has received a fresh invoice of every kind of goods that any one can possibly want for the holidays. He seemed to have everything before, and wants you to buy. Step in and see him.

The reporter is going to the White House himself one of these days to purchase clothing. Is it necessary to add anything after that statement? It is the place where one gets the value of his money in durable, well-made garments.

Cottons, calicos, muslins, silks, satins, velvet, and everything else you may desire, are to be had of Levy Bros., and at a large reduction on usual rates. They have a heavy stock of holiday goods to which they call your special attention.

Do you want a stove, tinware, or anything in the line of the iron business? Do you want to save money? Your place, then, is Knowles & Bainbridge's where you will be furnished with exactly what you want, and almost at your own prices.

On this festive occasion do not forget the Thistle Dew whisky for which Al Lindley is sole agent. He has everything else, but the Thistle Dew whisky is likely to carry the day for a short time. Lindley will be glad to see you; will give you all information.

Jamison's show window is a study in itself, and he who has not seen and examined it, does not yet know the possibilities of artistic combination. Better than the show window is the variety, cheapness and splendor of the goods offered within. Call and see for yourself.

Did you try Pollard's meat market? If not, try it. Ladies, who are always the best judges in such matters, say that no better meat can be found in market than what Pollard keeps, and they, who are always particular about prices, say that he sells cheap.

Everybody knows the Palace. Everybody has been well entertained there, and no one who has ever entered the house went away dissatisfied. The finest house in the largest city can furnish nothing better than the Palace affords, and whoever does not go there misses a splendid chance for enjoyment.

A Good Crop.
Nevada climate is well adapted to raising hard wood, and farmers ought to have oak, maple and walnut trees growing. Black walnut can be grown from the nut, producing a butt fourteen inches in diameter in as many years from the seed, as far north as Massachusetts. No tree valuable for its timber in cabinet uses, unless the black birch so be considered, can attain to that useful growth in that period of time in our northern climate. Maples require twenty years before they become good timber trees; beeches and birches fifteen years to attain a diameter large enough to yield nine-inch boards; hickory should have a growth of thirty years; and cherry at least as much.

The cultivation of the black walnut might be made a source of profit, if only as an auxiliary to the ordinary farm products. It requires no particular care, makes an elegant tree even in its youth, and later offers an agreeable shade the Sewing Machine Journal says: One hundred acres of land, seeded to walnut trees, even if they reached maturity in fifteen years, would be more remunerative than many of the crops produced by fifteen of incessant toil. Besides, these trees might be planted and would thrive on spots which are really valueless for agricultural purposes, and while in the course of growth, would serve as valuable aids to agriculture as wind-breaks and in other respects.

Eastern Markets.

On the 13th, the hog market in Chicago was very much demoralized by an organized movement of the bears. It was not successful, and prices rose on the next day.

WHAT IS DEVELOPING SPEED An Expert Horseman's Opinion of the Trotter.

Some one asked of Robert Bonner the other day to what he attributed the marvelous lowering of the record of trotting horses in the last 20 years. He said: "To several causes; in the first place, what I may call the mechanical adjuncts to the sport have been wonderfully improved. Our modern sulkies and buggies represent almost the perfection of scientific skill applied to carriage building. Friction and weight are reduced to a minimum, while strength and stability remain a maximum. Then, several seconds have been gained by the improved scrapers and rollers used to prepare the track. On my own farm, for instance, after using for some time a roller which I regarded as perfect, I was induced to try the latest novelty which is used at Fleetwood, and found I had gained two seconds, at least, by doing so. Then the introduction of toe-weights has done wonders in this direction. In fact, I think this latter invention has almost revolutionized the science of trotting, and will have a powerful influence in future breeding."

LITTLE RED RIDING HOOD.

Never was more hearty applause and seldom has an audience been so well pleased as was that at the Nevada Theater last night, when the operetta of Little Red Riding Hood was presented.

The house was packed, and the rendition of character was perfect. The surprising matter is that such small items of humanity could have been so well drilled.

The GAZETTE would fain particularize, but cannot, unless by devoting a column to the performance. The entertainment was remarkably fine, and the performers were:

Red Riding Hood.....Kittie Elliott
Mama.....Ellie Murray
Hugh.....Harry Wilson
Wolf.....Seymour Williams
Robin.....Peter Murray
Buttercup.....Carrie McIntosh Rose
Grandmother.....Lalla Remington

All deserve praise, but time and space prevent special mention.

THE NEW SUNSET.

Sam Davis of the Carson Appeal has looked upon the rosy sunsets. Mounting his poetical Pegasus, Mr. Davis gives vent to his emotions in the following verses:

THE NEW SUNSET.

Boy's skirt, feelings leaves,
With foaming banks and fading, beyond
the shadows fly;
The land stirs, mountain vapors,
With such a fantastical career,
Throw gray and mottled shading upon the western sky.

But now the scene so prosey,
Lights up withr flashes rosy,
With the after sunset shining and gleaming in the west.

Now comes the golden glow,
With green and yellow tinges
With those gilded curtains lining the palaces of rest.

Then comes a golden glowing,
Like harvest after sowing,
And ere the stars have twinkled with an
The sky is streaked with dashes
And sanginary splashes,
Like blood of day just sprinkled on the omnipresent blue.

Is this a dusky volcano,
Or the demon's realms satanic,
Where the demons and the pire are soaring up in crowds?

Or some celestial revel,
Where every jolly devil
Reels from the feast while pouring his wine upon the clouds?

And now in masses vastly,
The land grows dim and ghastly,
With ritter edge showing through the pale dissipating mist.

Farewell thou faint memorial
Of color purgatorial,
Those pale apparitions glowing with trembling incandescence.

A Dull Camp.

Secretary of State Dorner went through to San Francisco from Candelaria yesterday morning, being called to the bedside of his mother, who is seriously ill. Mr. Dorner says the immediate business outlook of Candelaria is anything but bright, but expresses his unshaken belief in the mineral wealth of the district. He will stay by the camp.

DISBANDED.

At the regular weekly meeting of the Candelaria Guard, held in Candelaria last Thursday, owing to the fact that so many of the members of the company were about to leave town, it was decided to disband the organization and muster it out of the military service.

Cattle for the Bay.

Brooks will ship this evening five carloads of cattle for San Francisco. By a misunderstanding on the part of the reporter, what should have been credited to him in yesterday's issue, was attributed to Louis Dean.

AYER'S
Cherry Pectoral.

No other complaints are so insidious in their attacks as those affecting the throat and lungs; none so trifled with by the majority of sufferers. The ordinary cough or cold, resulting perhaps from a trifling or unconscious exposure, is often but the beginning of a fatal sickness. AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL has well proved its efficacy in a forty years' fight with throat and lung diseases, and should be taken in all cases without fail.

A Terrible Cough Cured.

"In 1857 I took a severe cold, which affected my lungs. I had a terrible cough, and passed night after night without sleep. Doctors gave me no relief. At last I took AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL, which relieved my lungs, induced sleep, and afforded me the rest necessary for the recovery of my strength. By the second week of their use I was well, and a permanent cure was effected. I am now 82 years old, hair and hearty, and am satisfied your CHERRY PECTORAL saved me."

MORRIS FARMBROTHER.

Rockingham, Vt., July 15, 1882.

Croup.—A Mother's Tribute.

"While in the country last winter my little boy, three years old, was taken ill with croup it seemed as if he would die from strangulation. On the first day suggested the use of a weak CHEEZY PECTORAL. A bottle of which was always kept in the house. This was tried in small and frequent doses, and our delight in less than half an hour his little life was saved entirely. The doctor said that the CHEEZY PECTORAL had saved my darling's life. Can you wonder at our gratitude? Sincerely yours,

MRS. EMMA GEINNEY."

150 West 128th St., New York, May 16, 1882.

"I have used AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL in my family for several years, and do not hesitate to pronounce it the most effectual remedy for coughs and colds we have ever tried.

A. J. CRANE."

Lake Crystal, Minn., March 13, 1882.

"I suffered for eight years from Bronchitis, and after trying many remedies with no success, I cured myself by the use of AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL.—JOSEPH WALDEN."

Byhalia, Miss., April 5, 1882.

"I cannot say enough in praise of AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL, believing it to do that but for its use I should long since have died from lung troubles.

E. BRADON."

Palestine, Texas, April 22, 1882.

No case of an affection of the throat or lungs exists which cannot be greatly relieved by the use of AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL, and it will always cure when the disease is not already beyond the control of medicine.
